

Exposing My Athlete Roster

Let's just start with story time So we are currently at the Liberty Hotel in Boston every single time whether it was like a rich dude or an athlete or whoever people would stay here And obviously as like a broke college kid we would always want to come here because there would be rich dudes here and it was like a dope vibe of a bar and we would get fucked up and then it would be fun if a guy had a hotel room because we could like after party there rewind So I go on this date with this Patriots player in the summer and he's our college I'm going into my sophomore year on this date So I'm like a fucking baby You're not 21 I'm not even 21 ok I have my sister's ID I'm Catherine Cooper So I will never forget he D MS me and my friend Bridget is driving her car on and she's like a huge Boston girl and I who's calling me Matt It's not the time I'm telling stories of my exes ok So sorry Matt sorry Matt hold on So we're driving and I will never forget this guy I know I'm swerving but it will all make sense So I'm I'm Bridget's driving and I tell her who DM me and she quite literally almost off the road because like as a Boston girl like this guy was like Tom Brady and then the other person like we leave this out Yeah Yeah Yeah And he was so fucking hot at the time and like whatever So he DMS me and he asks me out on a date and he I didn't know he was joking because I don't know this man to asks me if I want to go bowling ok So in my mind like I am so trying hard to be like how do I look hot to go bowling And in my mind I'm like I'm going out with him like I need to be wearing heels and like look fucking hot But I put on Jesus sandals from target OK Why Because I'm like I was trying to be like chill girl I don't have the time What are Jesus sandals You know like this like the leather like cross cross cross cross cross But at the time they had like some jewels on them like that's how bad it was But also like they were kind of in back in the time OK So I put on my Jesus sandals I remember I put on skinny black jeans and then I put on this like Brandy Melville No maroon little like flowy pepple No because I was I was trying also mind too much which is so weird in my mind like you guys I was a fucking whore in college in the way that I dress Like I was gonna say like you dress really slutty But that sounds just bad peplum I I don't know this is what was happening Most of my girls weren't around while I was getting ready and it was just like me Bridget my one friend Lauren and Rachel and everyone was like maybe it's good if you show that you don't care Like do you know what I mean A little like I like a Jesus So the point is I remember he picks me up and you guys like I'm in college I have nothing to my name and this man drives up and all of my college roommates were like renting Um We have like an apartment are looking out the window and his pour rolls up and it's like all blacked out and I'm like jing my fucking pants I can't believe this guy is taking me on a date I get in this fucking car and I'm literally like oh my God So like where do you go bowling in like Boston Like where are we going And he literally looked at me He was like what And I was like where are we going to bowl And he was like we're going to icon the club I'm not taking you bowling That was a joke I'm in Jesus sandal with I'm about to roll up to the fucking club and Jesus saddles and a top and I look so bad I've never looked worse And I'm going to ICON You change you change We're already driving this little do they do they even let you into a club in not heels guys So we roll up to ICON and I remember everyone's like freaking out and like this is the point where like I was such a chaser I was like I hope someone gets me a picture I'm like I'm like leaning into you I'm like you're like literally I'm like I need the clout So we go to icon I have never felt uglier I'm disgusting whatever So this is the only time And so afterwards thank God he actually wanted to go He asked me to go back to his hotel room and hook up with him I'm like oh no no because I was like I need to see if he'll ever like invite me back because I need to like I need you would think I would actually would have fucked him to be like I'm more than just the Jesus sandals and the peplum But something in me that night I'm going home freaking the peplum So I gave up and I go home that night and I did hear from him again which was great and I feel like it's just because like everyone fucks him I didn't fuck him But really I was just feeling really insecure about my situation and I purposely didn't shave that night because I was like I will not fuck him so fast forward to That's the only time I ever see him in person The next time I see him is we go to Jem So I go with my roommate and it's we start day drinking and he shows up with one of his teammates and immediately I'm like I have a body suit in and I have socks in You know how I have that track I don't do it anymore but I used to put socks in my bra and my tits look triple fucking d like you couldn't fuck with me and they were you know they're looking real heel or jean I was I was wearing heels I was wearing making my pants look I looked great like I was looking finally great I had my extensions locked in like I was like looking good I was orange and time I got my straight tan my fake hair my fake tits I'm ready to go So he rolls up to Jem with his roommate or his his teammate and I'm with my roommate and we're like this is fucking perfect We start partying with them and after Jem we're so fucking

did you approach him or did he approach you He well yes that was interesting So he had like a corner um area that they brought him to and I was like like I wasn't doing this but I was like we need to get over there So I started like moving my way with my roommate and it was a slow balance of not looking desperate but I just needed to get eye contact with him and he's never seen me look this good So I didn't recognize you He's like literally was that oh it's the fucking Amish bitch that I took on a date and I didn't even get a fucking kiss when you went on the date with him Did you do anything Oh We did make out we did make out it was a good make out It was in the car It was a goodbye kiss He drove me home like no hand I literally couldn't look at myself like I was so mortified and my friends can literally my friends I walk in the door and my friends are like what happened And I rip off my sandals I'm like we didn't go fucking bowling We didn't go fucking bowling We had the icon and everyone was like oh you fucked up Like and most of my friends I would die I don't know if I would go imagine he just rolls away from the house and I'm literally looking down and I didn't even have my toes painted really like it was bad You thought you were gonna put on bowling shoes I was into the bowling shoes The whole situation was actually so bad and I will say like I would say in college like I was really with it and that was one of the biggest lapse in judgment I ever had You would never make that mistake Like ever like post college allys work in New York City streets that never made that I would rather be late an hour to make sure I look So they would have said I'm taking you bowling and you said you would say what the fuck you a loser No you're not Take me somewhere better I would have said no we're going to like no And here I was like ok I'll go bowling with you Hi Daddy Gang Thank you so much for watching this video Keep in mind that was just a little clip from the episode If you want to watch the entire full video episode it is linked below It's the first thing in the description Go watch it It's a great episode Love you all I will see you next Wednesday
