

LA Unscripted | February 15th, 2023

From hotspots and hidden gems to lots of local flavor It's your guide to L A the unscripted way And tonight we're hosting from a true L A toy story pop culture collectibles movie star Many the craze for F is also so real And today we're going off script at their Hollywood headquarters Welcome to Scripted everyone I'm de and this place is so amazing It's like it's on a music park or Jurassic park and the line to get in is already around the block So why is this the spot to shop And why are F pop so popular We are 40,000 square feet of absolute pure experiential retail We sell what most people will recognize as these little plastic bobblehead toys from Disney to Star Wars to marvel to your favorite serial characters and your favorite sports figures Some people like to call it a museum Some people like to call it a retail store or like a free amusement park without the rides be with you We have a Marvel section for everybody who absolutely loves their superhero We've got Harry Potter for our Harry Potter head Really good friends right now I'm standing in front of our DC area with that man and Superman We've got an area for Disney our villains You're going to see a normal tyrannosaurus racks that you can take a picture in front of from Jurassic Park The cool part about Funk Hollywood is it's totally instagrammable We have a throne with our four villains on it and it is our number one Instagram Photoshop in the store Our pops are collectibles and they are often resold or traded We have the truest fans to any product in the in the world I would say the best part of our story right now is our pop yourself area and you can literally on a touchscreen create your own pop So you're going to pick your skin tone and your body style OK I'm basically white as the day is long God Look there titties rabbit She has better hair than I do The wine glass is the necessity and there you are You have your assembled If you know what F is you're definitely going to be a fan So if you never heard about fo when you leave you are going to be a funk collector because he will not be able to leave without something in your pocket and want to add more Oh My God Today was the best shoot ever And now I'm a part of your work Isn't she cute Now I can join the other famous faces that have gotten fo like comedian Joe Hosing user Even Jasons is last so but now a famous friend of L A he was showing off his new F shop in and Jasmine Sims was first at the door What up though This is big Snoop Dogg L A unscripted I want y'all to welcome yourselves to my new store The phone call Dog House Experience right across the street from the SOFI Stadium in the city of Englewood He go what This store is amazing There's so many different you know phone call editions in there Different athletes entertainers Snoop Dogg different versions of Snoop Dogg small versions big versions bags backpacks It's it's it's an exciting story It's kinda hard to explain You gotta go in there and see what I'm talking about Ok He wasn't lying There are like tons of snoops that you can get you can get Og Snoop Mr Snoop do double G and then we have Laker Fan Snoop I'm just going to take all of these until someone comes in which they go to first Whatever fits you best because it is a football section where some classic football players there's some basketball players in there some actors in there some Snoop Doggs whatever suits you You'll find something in there and it's something for kids and adults Oh hey lebron of course he'd be inside the Funko store is Snoop a Funko collector Do you have like all these at home You have a whole section I got a few I mean I got a little section at the house because I don't want to be looking like I'm snoop Dogg crazy But I do got a couple in there though How does it feel to be opening up this funko store right here in Inglewood This feels good because I remember when it was a 7-Eleven and I just remember just having a conversation with the mayor about what I wanted to do to try to you know put my footprint in Inglewood and the city of Inglewood has been backing me and support me and we just been bringing great business here and it it feels good 123 congratulation This shopping center has been around for a long time and being so close to the sofa when the mayor was telling me about building the SOFI Stadium we was always figuring out how can I have some sort of business either in there or near there And this is like the perfect spot perfect location and it just all fell into place We're definitely gonna franchise but just Inglewood been so good to me and my family and um I got a great relationship with the mayor and the whole community So it just felt right to to try to enhance the business of Inglewood And you know this is what it is where it's at right now So that's what we're doing taking over the whole the whole strip here You know like monopoly for real I wasn't good at monopoly in real life though And get this snoop also has a whole line of really cool dog toys So I think he approve of this next story Ice cream for pups Ok Tell me about ice cream Pops How did this start I've always wanted to do something with dogs I love dogs I love animals But um and then it kind of popped into my head if I can make a healthier version of ice cream because all I see everybody handing it down to their dog and giving it to their dog So I thought the best thing to do would be come up with something that a dog can eat and it's healthy And how did you do that Like did you go through a lot of different tests with what you know like different recipes Like how did you how did you come up with the actual I just kept it very simple So it's only four ingredients It's vegan it has a coconut milk base and cream and it has a vegan stabilizer and then it's strictly organic natural blueberries strawberries the peanuts are crushed It's just four gradients clean ingredients Do you do special events How do how do people like find you guys We do events we do adoption events we do parties birthday parties we make birthday cakes um or we just give out the cups at a party And so you how did you you reached out to us which was amazing Tell me about that Well so I've been watching L A unscripted every Saturday night because I have no life And um I just thought you know you're fun and you do these fun stories and you do all this interesting stuff around L A Um I feel like I have something that no one else has and I thought it'd be perfect for your show I reached out to you through Instagram and she actually wrote back to me and um and that's how I got connected here So thank you Of course we're so happy to have you OK So it's time you guys Do you want a treat Risa You want a treat and look we came in dog costumes because we're so excited about the ice cream pups Oh You just take the whole scoop in your mouth You want some Oh they like it And we are really good Get drink peanut butter Not bad at all So much more coming up including some tiny treasures and custom candy unscripted from F will be back in just a moment Stay frozen on those screens Get it frozen Welcome back to L A Scripted I'm Devin and this is the world famous FCO store in Hollywood And while we're huge fans of these custom bobble heads were also big fans of creating our own CT candy Sugar Lab is a specialty confections brand that was born and raised in Los Angeles California And we create these incredible never before seen candies and savory hors d'oeuvres as well as drink drops to garnish a variety of cocktails and champagne drinks This has got the edible glitter which is made from Mica Right Exactly Oh it smells like oh I see the glitter This is so fun 3d printing lets us create all these really imaginative new products that we've never had before We've worked with a lot of big brand names Sony comes to mind Apple comes to mind Amazon comes to mind The story of Sugar Lab really began when I was a graduate student in architecture 3D printers were just becoming common that time about 10 years ago And I really just started to wonder what would it be like to 3D print with sugar And could you design a 3D printer that would be completely food safe That chefs would feel comfortable using everything's edible Exactly Oh my God I cannot get over Look at the new poop We have poop You have we can actually print anything and we actually have a surprise for you We heard that tennis is your favorite hobby Oh this is so cute Oh my God This is so cute Can you print that Yes We we printed it for you and you'll see it in real life How big is it so much in the L A unscripted logo I get to make this special custom L A unscripted tennis ball at our next stop I can't wait I'm so excited This is so cool Yeah What is this right here Is this the actual printer that is the actual printers printing right now And it's so cute because they have six printers but they're all named after six of the most famous chef So there's child there's CRE Ramsey And so we made these little tennis balls that say these are the tennis ball Now we're gonna go to take these over here we'll take them over to the station It literally looks like it has the buzz of a real tennis ball The way it came out Look at the detail I'm obsessed Ok I have to say you ace this get it get it ball ace I'm in love So if you're in the L A area and you're looking for custom specialty confections or more you should reach out to us at sugarlab3d.com But we can also help larger businesses with their printing project So if you run a small business or a bakery or um a hotel in Los Angeles you can get in touch with us and we can create incredible bespoke branded confections and more for events or even for retail daily business You know me I love a secondary sugar high and we'll be back with so much more from bl a unscripted returns in just a moment It's been more than 20 years since the first Harry Potter book hit store shelves here in the US And the magic continues to live on Now There's a new smart wand that lets you cast spells with a high tech twist There we go This Harry Potter wand lets you cast real spells Well spells that control your smart home devices It's kind of a dream come true for fans It's the Harry Potter magic caster wand I got a demo of it at Warner Brothers HQ in Burbank open the box and the experience comes to life with lights and music that set a magical tone connect the Bluetooth wand to a phone or tablet and you're ready to learn how to cast spells There are over 50 at launch Many inspired by the iconic stories They range from easy to when you get the motion just right It triggers different reactions from connected devices including smart tvs light bulbs and speakers but it's not really a remote control It's more of an experience I'm going to cast my first spell It's called Lumos Tap Here It's telling me that's not right There we go I got it on the first try See I'm getting better There are three wands to choose from honorable loyal and defiant Each sells for $150 These are not character wands these are original designs because now this is your wand A limited edition heroic wand is already sold out It's a great opportunity to create something that really makes people's dream come true I mean people have really wanted to do magic for the whole time They've been fans of of this of these characters and stories There's a dueling functionality so you can play with friends in real life And although these will appeal most to loyal Harry Potter fans it's a unique idea and a fun way to play The magic caster wands are available now online and in select stores if you want to learn more you can go to my website It is rich on tech dot TV I'm Rich Deniro and you are tech smart You know it's always fun and games on a scripted because well that's our job My name is Anna Bean and I'm an artist from Los Angeles California Today I'm going to be revealing my world of miniatures Well I've been painting since I was about nine years old I was born in Armenia and my family moved to Los Angeles when I was six But while I was going to college I found this doll house and it just kind of stayed off to the side because I was in school and I didn't really have time to play with it Then flash forward About a decade later my husband and I had been on a road trip while I was traveling the size of my artwork had to get smaller because I didn't have a studio anymore And oftentimes the front seat of the car was my studio I think it's actually harder to paint smaller versus the larger paintings because each brushstroke really matters I was already selling artwork through my Etsy shop I made a a separate store just for my miniatures During the earlier part of the pandemic I saw a big rise in um the amount of sales online because galleries also had to close down Anna's Dollhouse is a real miniature art gallery that is 1 12 scale I use the dolls to create comics that are set inside the dollhouse and I've made three seasons of them So far all of the artwork in the dollhouse are originals made by either myself or other artists that I know For example this elephant character right here is inspired by the graffiti artist Banksy because he had a pink elephant as part of his show And I started master copying some of his graffiti art at a 1 12 scale One of his paintings was being auctioned off and he had rigged a shredder inside the painting And so during the auction it went off and the artwork started becoming destroyed with the dollhouse I'm showing that dolls and toys aren't just for playing with The miniature hobby is taken very seriously People can commission specific works of art that I can turn into a mini When I first purchased my dollhouse nearly a decade ago I didn't realize I could turn it into work So during the pandemic when we're looking for ways to entertain ourselves This is a good time to think outside the box and try something new because you never know where it could lead the Hollywood bowl in the palm of your hand And now time to get your hands on some really good sushi Hr V is a modern handle bar and we we do

Japanese techniques but with new and modern techniques as well it's all more like a fusion It's something new different But every Wednesday night we focus on Omakase translate into Japanese by the chef's hand or trust the chef So you're getting the best the finest and the freshest of what the chefs of uh ingredients is available and every week is different that's what makes our oak different from everybody else because I'm always out there looking and searching for the great best or great ingredient for that night and no menu is repeated So whatever we have right now the next week they're not gonna have it again Not only we do Omakase we make sure that we pair it with a great sake as well My name is sake man Super sake super sake man I'm a a sake importer and consultant here to help kind of navigate you through the world of sake Um Consider me like a sake sommelier tonight I am a woman who looks a gays to the world So the first dish or Omakase is actually yellow tail ribs It falls off the bone Oh my God It's got some lemon on it It's perfectly seasoned Oh my God Oh my God This is like art I don't even know if I can eat I mean I will eat it Don't get me wrong I am got a new socket for you guys What do we say again Yours to cheers Come by Good bye So this is a five Wagyu beef from Japan the crispy on the outside and the tender on the inside Oh Wow So what we have here is Japanese style bread and butter pudding with macha ice cream and a bit of Ramon custard and caramel sugar right there That is like that's the best thing I ever had and yummy and oh my God I could have nine more of these Love the point that when you serve somebody and you give a smile that they love the food they are happy and then you make their night and they make their day and it's like that's enough compliment for me as a chef chef I have to say this was an unbelievable experience Thank you so much Appreciate it Pledges all night Can I keep eating And that is all the time we have for tonight Thanks to fo for letting us go off script and thank you for bobbling around with us where we pop up next You'll have to catch us to find out Good night A scripts assemble
