

Tim Dillon's Take on the Lizzo Accusations

The Joe Rogan experience and that's how they've done it throughout history right I mean that's what they did when they got rid of JFK That's what Lizzo should have done with those bitches But those bitches who turned on her because she was trying to help them First of all that that's not even a car Like you don't get to be a fat backup dancer that doesn't exist It's not real Lizzo made that category of person She made it and then they turned on her That's crazy She is she what is she accused of fat shaming them making them rehearse making them stand up That's what their version of fat shaming is making them stand up and walk onto the stage making them rehearse taking them to a sex club in Amsterdam where uh the performers are shooting uh bananas out of their pussies because this is what happens And Lizzo's like forcing them to touch the nude performers and force one of them to eat a banana that came out of the vagina of a sex work a performer dancer in the sex club Lizzo makes girl she's like eat the banana eat the banana and then the girl gets really angry at that But supposedly Lizzo was just uh abusing her power This is what they're all saying Mm But I don't know if I buy that I think it's bitter People Maybe that are angry because they all look like Lizzo This is what's gonna drive them nuts They look exactly like her and she's worth 40 million and they're probably getting paid shit So they're in the background every night dancing and it ain't easy It's fun to be on that TV show that she had But then you have to do it every night and they're icing their joints you know it's hard they're in the trailer it's fucking tough Lizzo had to start getting on some of them going like you gotta tone it down you know it's becoming a problem you know the weight is becoming a problem and then then Lizzo's response was she's like I would never fire any of them because of their weight It's like what a weird statement they're dancers How fat can they get How fucking big can they get if I wanted to be a dancer for Taylor Swift and she came up to me and went you're too fat to do this I'd go That makes sense And I'd leave with some dignity But these women Lizzo has them on stage She has them dancing and then all of a sudden you know she's abusing or making them do weird shit And they all are now suing her and her streaming has slowed down big time The ads you know how it is It's a big uh cancellation So did she so this show were these girls dancers before they got on her show Girls can't be a dancer at a certain let's just be very honest here they're not at the at the ballet you know how the ballerinas are on the tippy toes That's not happening These women it's a fetish dancing It's these are larger women OK And I don't mean like I oh I had a cheesecake I mean like these are big big big ladies and they're dancing because Lizzo's whole thing Lizzo's like I'm not getting enough attention just being the fatty upfront I want everyone on stage to be fat so I can get more praise because the media will be like not only is she fat everyone's fat The whole stage looks like shit How good of a person is she That's what they want I think that's what she wanted She wanted It wasn't enough that it was her it had to be everybody and that's what bit her in the ass Uh But the question is these gals how often did they have to dance Was it like every night Like how often does that show Was it a once a week show I don't know But they're on tour So you'd figure when you they're on tour OK So they're doing regular shows This is my question when you're a big girl and you're not exercising And then all of a sudden someone hires you for a dance show because they want big girls and then you have to do that kind of show every day It's tough Your body's not prepared for that Your joints are weak very hard Like you could get really fucked up doing It's like asking someone to go into like some crazy cardiovascular work and they get mad at Lizzo because Liza doesn't have to do anything She just pulls out the flute Can I see what it looked like Can you show me what that show was like Can you show us the big girls Here come the big girls is the show But I think they're also angry at Lizzo because they're like we're dancing and rehearsing She doesn't have to rehearse Lizzo just kind of walks out on stage and sings her songs and does a little but then pulls out the flute These girls have to like dance through the whole thing So it's difficult hard it sounds hard It's not easy It's hard for a dancer Here we go OK So there's Lizzo It's on Amazon Prime video It's Lizzo I'm looking for dancers to join me on my tour Girls that look like me don't get representation Time to pull up my sleeves Find them myself We think and we pretty and we know what we do It's the bad of the big girls background dancer for Lizzo would just mean everything you could tell how badly this was gonna go by the way What do we have in store This is the fun part I'm always doubting myself and I feel like that has been detrimental in how I approach dance I'm realizing that I do deserve a spot on that stage It's hard to love yourself in a world that doesn't love you back You are created specially in your image for you to enjoy You don't have to be light skinned You don't have to be skinny You're just beautiful the way you are I need to challenge myself and step outside my comfort zone Now I'm going into competition but some people are not at the same level that I am I'm gonna call you LS She's trying to demean me She's not understanding how to read the room Oh you might not make it into the show What So what was that one that we just passed through there There was one that like was that a transgender person Yes I believe that is a transgender person Even in like a quick glance it was a quick that wasn't they I'll say they didn't do a great job at the you know fully going to the other gender there You know what I mean It's like they kind of stopped and that's fine Not everyone does a great job all the time And everything I don't know anybody I brought my car and to get washed and it comes out and you go and that's kind of what that was Um but that so the show is basically she's hiring these girls these girls listen and then they're going on tour together I've had drug a drug addictions I've had eating things like when you are not in a good mental state which is a lot of the reason people act out with different things right With substances with food with whatever you know and you know listen if you have people that are emotionally that have issues you know and Lizzo might have to have them as well It's a toxic soup of maybe that's a becomes a problem on tour Everybody It's the idea of a judge having a adjudicate this to me is the funniest thing I've ever the idea of a judge in a room having to go who called who fat looking Lizzo's on one side and then the d and he's like staring at everybody going wait who's who who's what who's fat Like it's crazy But you know it's unfortunate because you know they're coming for her career they're coming for her career big time The show itself seems like it would be a health risk It seems like it would be right to force people to work out Part of the lawsuit has to do with the recording that one of the dancers made and I'm reading this article This sounds it's interesting if you guys would want to read It also describes an alleged meeting with dancers on April 27th at which Lizza repeatedly referenced William's termination allegedly telling her that she had quote eyes and ears everywhere Davis recorded this meeting because she suffers from an eye condition that can make her quote disoriented in stressful situations According to the suit days later Lijo Lizzo allegedly held an emergency meeting where she discovered that the previous meeting had been recorded The suit says she became furious hurling expletives at the group and stating that she was gonna go around the room person by person until somebody told Lizzo who made the recording According to the lawsuit the suit says Davis confirmed that she had recorded The meeting allegedly told Lizzo that she hadn't meant any harm and had deleted the video Lizzo allegedly responded there is nothing you can say to make me believe you So it's kind of like a like mafia shit they got well someone did here's what I want to know when it says became furious hurling expletives at the group and stated that she was going to go around the room person by person until someone told Lizzo who was making who made the recording God I hope she refers to herself in the third term third person I hope that's how she says that would be amazing if she said someone better tell Lizzo I mean she brought all these women on tour probably to abuse them You know I don't think they thought it through That's what I'm saying this about when you have a bunch of fatty boom badies on the tour it's she's probably having a little fun going girls You know she's probably eat some pussy out of banana eat the pussy banana and also bitch do it because where else are you gonna dance You're not getting hired anywhere else Like unfortunately or fortunately you're not working So you were given this really weird unique opportunity that only exists with this one woman It doesn't exist anywhere else So you know there's this this is like not to body shame anybody But there was there's been a weird shift in just the way society looks at these things because it used to be that women that were representing clothes and things had ideal shapes like that's what they use for advertising and then something changed and they decided well society used to really prioritize people who could breathe on their own and and that and and I and and listen listen as a person I've struggled with my weight I but I know that fat is not good Eating the wrong thing isn't good We shouldn't turn it into good There's there's crazy to turn it into good That's a horrible idea
