

Eddie Bravo's Intense Story About Almost Getting Robbed

The Joe Rogan experience dude I almost got robbed Dude They set me up do that recently recently like about a year ago Did I didn't tell you about that No damn dog in L A right there off the 405 that Chevron of the 405 in Santa Monica dog I almost got fucking I almost got killed I was I never get gas like late because like you're a sitting duck at a gas station you're a sitting duck If someone's waiting for you they're gonna get you and I never get gas late at night It's fucking dangerous especially the last couple of years and this is about a year and a half ago or something And um I get in my car we're we're jam it like after class we always jam like the whole front area the whole front of my school We closed during this pandemic We never opened it It's you have to come through the back Yeah it's hard to find my school We're we're a private gym I don't want anybody walking in So the whole front area I got a piano in there We got guitars and we just jammed We were jamming all night Now it's fucking like 1230 time to go home I I turn on my truck and it's fucking empty I'm like God damn it You don't want to get gas in downtown in midnight So I'm like how far am I gonna make it So I get on the town and I'm going west on the town and I'm gonna go up to 405 I'm like am I gonna make it Am I gonna make it And then I got north on the 405 the lights on I'm like fuck it Let me just get off on Santa Monica got off on Santa Monica and then you make a left and you go under the freeway and there's the chevrons on the right and I'm and I'm pulling up to it The gas station main part is closed but the the pumps are still open but you could tell it's closed and I pull up and I and I drive in and I see two dudes with hoodies on holding like bags like 20 yards away Me as I pull in as I'm pulling in and you know you know when you get you you know when you when you get a new car it takes you forever to figure out how to lock the door When you come in you're like turn the key and then boom it takes you a while like you had to rent a car but after you have a car for like five years you're just like you know what I mean You get in courtesy you know what I mean But at first it's like you're trying to learn that shit and how to lock it and all that So I always practice when I get in my car I always as soon as I shut the door lock as soon as I shut the door lock but when you have a new car you you have it takes a couple of seconds until it becomes muscle memory But I had my truck dude I got that shit down So I get I drive up and I'm looking at these two guys facing away from me with a hoodie on and they go they're just standing there walking in like the gas station that's closed and away from me I'm like what then I'm like I'm just sitting there and I park I'm like fuck it Ok Let me put gas I open the door and as soon as I opened the door and I walk out this dude pops up boom right in front of my car and starts walking He's got a mask on He comes up right in front of my truck dude I jumped in and we drove away He goes I'm gonna wash your windows man and I'm like fuck you and I drove away dog And dude if they would have just waited until I started pumping cause I cause I was keeping I was keeping my eyes on the two guys over there I was keeping my eyes on it I was gonna come out and pump and just and then this dude right in front of my truck pops up boom And he comes around dude I jumped in dude Boom bam drove away and he had a mask on and he said he's gonna wash your windows I'm like where's your fucking screeching que you dude And I drove away and I barely made it to another gas station up on like uh Morocco or whatever is like by sunset dude they almost had me doc they almost fucking had me if I should never ever drive at night You know what Then I wonder I thought dude I didn't sleep that night I didn't sleep that night And I'm like and I swear to God I felt like OK I have a purpose in life because I should have been dead right there
