

What's Next for Tucker Carlson After Leaving Fox News

The Joe Rogan experience Did you see the Tucker Carlson interview on Full Sand Uh yes I saw um I didn't watch the entire thing but I saw a few uh clips of it when he's talked about uh how much he regrets supporting the war in Iraq That's what you're referring to Yeah Yeah And I believe him I think he really means it I believe him sometimes you know sometimes there's people like there's like John McCain types who go like you know they'll or Hillary Clinton they'll admit ok it was a mistake but then they still support every subsequent war after that and they know it doesn't seem whereas Tucker is like I'm so ashamed that I supported this I'll never forgive myself for it and has opposed every subsequent war after that And I'm like ok I think this guy really believes it He's different than people want to pretend he is First of all the guy was a deadhead Yeah You know that used to follow the dead around So for sure dropped acid I that'd be my guess How how else can you enjoy the music I I think it's legally required that you've taken acid at least once if you're going to enjoy the Grateful Dead I'm not sure I don't know I haven't brushed up on the statues alive to LSD According to my friends who've been there and done that It's it's really interesting what the um the public perception of Tucker Carlson is or or particularly how uh polarizing he is to people that it's almost it's almost like you're there describing a different person than he actually is Um I really I think he was the most interesting person in cable news the most thoughtful most intelligent like he was really he um I don't agree with him on anything you know on my uh on my podcast we used to do a segment where it was just it was I had just done it so many times that we started joking about it being a segment that we called Contra Carlson because I was just disagreeing with him Like he had all these economic ideas that I completely disagree with and I disagree with a lot of stuff he said but he was like such uh like the the lone voice in like really the corporate press who was completely opposed to the military IND industrial complex completely opposed to big Pharma And all of the COVID insanity was really good on like speaking up about a lot of really important issues issues that you would think like a good leftist would at least appreciate that he's good on that issue you know and some some of them did This is what he's the guy who's having Glenn Greenwald on his show You know what I mean He's the guy who's having Aaron mate and Jimmy do He's all right wingers He's having like the he's having left and it was it was very interesting He wasn't a partisan he would be completely against the Republican Party was viciously critical of the Republican party hates the Republican establishment And even the stuff I see I've seen so many people be like um you know he was uh he bought into Trump's uh claims that the election was stolen And I'm like I don't know dude do you watch him because I watched his show And that's actually not He was the guy He took a lot of heat from this from right wingers that immediately following the election of 2020 He really aggressively called out Trump's lawyers uh Rudy Giuliani and uh Sydney uh Powell I think was the other one because they were making claims about the Dominion voting machines that they flipped millions of votes And Tucker Carlson went on his show and he goes ok if this is true it's the biggest story in the history of the United States of America So what evidence do you have And he's like we have reached out privately to to the Trump's lawyers We've gotten nothing in return So to be clear they're making this claim and providing nothing to back it up He really was like no no Now what he has said later is they'll be like they'll pull quotes and be like yeah but he referred to uh 2020 as a scam or something like that And it's like yeah but you don't watch his show So you don't get that Like what he was saying was yeah the Dominion vote flipping thing is bullshit No one's ever provided any evidence of that But the fact that big tech and the intelligence agencies work together to undermine the Hunter Biden story to get Joe Biden across the finish line is bullshit Like that's you know what I mean And that's a scam and he's that's a completely reasonable position to take again It's just you know like look at this dude Don Lemon is out at CNN right I promise you whoever replaces Don Lemon has the same exact views as Don Lemon and the same exact views of everybody else at CNN And that's not true for Tucker Carlson Like there's at least there was a guy out there who like would disagree with the with uh the rest of the people at his network disagree with both political parties He's really designed for the internet I hope I hope he goes there He's going to unless they've paid him off to like the I mean if I was a person in a position of power in a wild card like Tucker Carlson got released from Fox News and maybe Rumble makes a deal with him or something like that Do you have any fucking idea how big that would be How big his show It it could make that that app it could make that that platform I mean if Tucker Carlson goes over there it would be worth it for them to invest a considerable amount of money And but if I was Fox News that's the last thing I would want So I would make sure that we have him locked up for the entire term of some contract Some no compete and pay him off You'd you'd be better off just giving him the same amount of money

he made when he was on the air and I wonder him opposing you I wonder what he's already under contract for You know what I mean Like there may already be some clause in his contract that says you know if we leave there's X amount of time I don't know you know fucking Fox News man They're smart they're not stupid It was very shocking seeing him leave I was I was surprised although in high school one of those things where like I was surprised right away and then like two days later I'm like how was he ever even there Like how would this guy was on the eight pm hour at Fox News Saying the CIA killed Kennedy Like how did how was that ever a real thing you know like it's insane He was like it But what's crazy to me is that like so many progressives have like it's like it's like invasion of the body snatchers or something It's like is this the real you man Have you just been replaced with an N PC The eight pm hour at Fox News is saying the CIA killed Kennedy That's not interesting to you That's not like some like I'm not saying you have to agree with him on everything but like that's not kind of that's different than Bill o'reilly That's a different this is a different world we're living in now
