

Joe Asks Jorge Masvidal About Colby Covington Conflict

The Joe Rogan experience What happened with you and Colby Uh he's a bitch bro and he showed his true colors for the money for the pay per view He talk about my kids my my family for to maybe sell no not friends I was fucking his everything his mentor I I was already in strike force I had competed against Gilbert Melendez I was an established pro when he came over to American top team Um I was living up at American top team I had an apartment over there for like about a year and change He broke his heart his hand his girlfriend had fucking kicked him out of the place because she he had given her fucking herpes and shit No I'm dead as serious So he had like nowhere to fucking live So he asked if he could crash on my couch I was like yeah fuck it bro We're on both on this journey together We train together we play poker together fucking this and that So I basically fed this dude for a fucking year Lived on my couch didn't give me a fucking dollar because he didn't have a job I had a fucking broken hand It's all documented It's all him on youtube saying Jorge man as well That was my best friend If it wasn't for Jorge I wouldn't be here and this and that and then you know um I'm at 155 So then I come up to 170 I start stealing a lot of not stealing but I start getting a lot of shine from myself A lot of eyeballs start looking at me and immediately instead of like yeah we're fucking boys we could fight or whatever whatever the fuck he turns into something fucking ugly You know like everything that I did for you You're trying to use it against me especially my kids He knows the relationship I have with my kids and you're trying to use that against me You're a fucking piece of shit But beside before all that happened I already knew he wasn't a good person because my uh my ring coach this is when we cut ties me and him my ring coach trained him from his amateur all the way to his Rafael dos Sano's fight and he did a handshake deal with them 5% on your fights You know if you make $1000 you make $500,000 5% is what you're gonna pay me because that's what Joe Romero pays me That's what Jorge Martial pays me That's what all the guys that train with him pay him you know and he's like accessible at all times You will drive an hour this way drive an hour back that way and just give you all his knowledge and that's that's what he wanted you know And uh they shook hands on it as soon as Kobe made money what did he do Didn't pay my coach So since then I was like bro I wanna fucking take a bite to his fucking neck and my coach is like don't do it bro You you you'll fight him and that way that's how you'll get him for both of us You know I didn't get him that time but I promise you before my career is over I'm gonna fucking murder Kobe in the cage Legally legally legally What happened illegally Allegedly A lot of things happened allegedly I don't know they're saying a lot of things but it's it's all allegedly cause I shit man allegedly is a great word Yeah I don't know what they're talking about man But legally in the cage in the UFC I'm gonna fucking snatch your soul one way or another And that's also something that you know losing a piece of shit like that You know like if you let somebody come to you and and you share something with me like man something is very dear to me It's this moment where my mom blah blah blah and this and that and then I would use that because me and you had fallen out it really shows your fucking character like you're a fucking piece of shit bro You know and that's why nobody fucks with this guy Nobody fucks with this guy in any level in any accord you know Well it's a crazy John Jones can't stand him He had a very similar thing with John Jones He changed who he was when the UFC was about to cut him and he decided to become like a wrestling heel shit on the whole country Just for for what Like I I mean the thing about it is it's kind of genius in the fact that it really did get people paying attention to him in a negative way But you know I feel that he could have just been beating people put more time into their craft rather than Twitter and and trying to copy other heels and it would have been fine like this guy just oh what is Connor doing today Let let me go do that on the cheaper shit way you know like be fucking you bro you know just fucking go out there and beat dudes up and say what you gotta say and it'll come to you It took me a while to get here You know I had to fucking knock out and beat numerous fucking people actual champions to get here But it it'll come you don't have to sell out for the fucking dollar bro What was it Like fighting him Um I wanted to fucking kill him I wanna hurt him But I it wasn't the best version of me bro It it just wasn't the best version of me that they and you know in this sport that is what I love about it It's like what happened happened and everything else is bullshit right So until we fight again nobody will get to see that better version of me But I promise you Joe before I close this chapter in in my life in M MA I will have competed against this guy I'm gonna fucking take it So bro I I just know it after being those five rounds in there with him and that was the best that he had and I was nowhere near my best at that time for for different reasons I knew I could fucking end this guy
