Summary

The Montalban theater rooftop in Hollywood offers a unique movie-watching experience with a 1000-seat classic theater, sound-off headphones, and a bar. The theater has a rich history dating back to 1925 and is currently undergoing renovations. Ricardo Malta established the theater as his life's legacy. Additionally, the Lettuce Grow hydroponic garden uses ocean-bound plastic materials and aims to reduce food waste by making growing food accessible to everyone. The farm stand requires minimal maintenance and has an app/email system for guidance. Growing food is seen as a meditative and soul-enriching experience. The plant-based movement is growing, and Lettuce Grow aims to make growing food at home common. The Montalban theater rooftop is also a popular date spot and has been the location of surprise engagements.
