Summary

The Light Scape at the arboretum is a mile-long trail of twinkling trees and neon pulsating palms that offers a new way to see the gardens bathed in light and create new holiday memories. The main installations at the arboretum include Fire Garden, Winter Cathedral, and Neon House. The arboretum has stayed open continuously through the pandemic and provides a safe place for families to enjoy the beauty of the landscape and the festival lights. Some tips for holiday decorations include starting with a theme, mixing and matching plates, adding sparkle to the table, and placing ornaments deep inside the Christmas tree. Interesting facts about Christmas lights include Thomas Edison being responsible for the first display, Grover Cleveland being the first president to decorate a tree with electric bulbs, and the challenge of untangling Christmas lights.
